

SPEAHRhead

BULLETIN of the SOCIETY FOR THE PROTECTION OF EAST ASIANS' HUMAN RIGHTS

Cumulative Index

IMPORTANT NOTE: To find the names of people in this index, it is necessary to look under both the surname and given name. See details below.

A number before a "/" is the SPEAHRhead issue number. Other numbers are page or column numbers in the previously indicated issue.

This is a key word list (computer-generated index) for our first five years of publication (nos. 1-19). The first eleven issues are covered in less detail (but more "intelligently") than are the subsequent issues. The reason for this is that those issues were published before we computerized, and the entries have been entered manually. (Not included is the supplement to no. 11--Amnesty International's report "Political Imprisonment in the People's Republic of China," which contained its own index.)

Unless we specified in a particular case that more than a single word is to be listed, the computer program only lists individual words. For this reason, a name like "Wei Jingsheng" normally appears separately as "Wei" and "Jingsheng." Because most Chinese surnames are very common, it is usually easier to find the individual by looking under the given (second) name. In this example, to distinguish between Wei Jingsheng and Zhang Jingsheng, one can cross-check against the two surnames. (In some cases we have encoded a name so that both the surname and given name appear as a single entry. When you find such an entry, you probably will find additional references to the person under the given name.)

For purposes of alphabetizing, any final S is ignored. Because of the peculiarities of the romanization system used by the Chinese Nationalists on Taiwan, special provision has been made to accommodate the apostrophe and hyphen though this resulted in numerous unnecessary appearances of such marks. They are alphabetized as though they come before A. Thus, "Ch'u" comes before "Chen." All other diacritical marks are omitted, usually replaced by a \ before the letter. Thus "\U" can be presumed to be ü.

For an explanation of abbreviations, see inside back cover of any recent issue.

Recalling Democracy Wall

The years between May 4 and April 5 were rather sad.
 The democratic revolution failed to achieve true democracy.
 Why? What was the matter? What has happened?
 At a heavy price paid in blood, we have learned the answer:
 It takes law to curb abuses of power by the unbridled;
 It takes democracy to stop tyrants fed with blind submission.
 We must prevent the tragedy from being repeated in the years ahead.

The search for the beauty of springtime was cherished by all.
 Though checkpoints and roadblocks abound,
 The tide cannot be turned back.
 The people have awakened to the march of history.
 With feudalism obscurantism gone,
 They will usher in a new era with themselves at the helm,
 Basking in scientific socialism throughout the realm.

Citizens: Chests out, chins up!
 The battle against feudalism must go on
 Till the red banners of socialist freedom, democracy and law
 Fly over our broad land and hold the world in awe.

Tree leaves shiver after the autumn wind:
 The chrysanthemums droop under the weight of the morning dew.
 During this season, all things yearn for sunshine,
 but the sun is mercilessly kept from view.
 In dead silence I mourn the falling flowers.
 How I wish to bring them to life with my pen!
 The wild geese are gone with the dreary wind,
 And I wonder when they will return.

From the first poem, originally titled "A Citadel of Democracy," we have used excerpts only, and have changed the tense in some places from present to past. It originally appeared under the pen name Gong Min in April Fifth Forum, November 1979, pp. 51-52. The second poem is from the same source, p. 53. It also appeared pseudonymously, "by Xiao Rong of Sichuan Province." It was headed "to A Friend."

ERRATA

Please note the following errors in SPEAHRhead no. 19 (fall 1983):

Column 10 (top photograph): The dissident being arrested is apparently Ren Wanding (not Wang Rongqing as indicated).

Column 12: The name "Zhi Jianbin" is in error. This is apparently the same person as Zhu Jianbian, the facts of whose case are still somewhat unclear.

Column 34: The source of the Hanson Huang (Huang Xian) article was inadvertently omitted. This is a translation of an article which originally appeared in the Hong Kong magazine Qishi niandai (Seventies), no. 153, March 1983.

Dear SPEAHRhead subscriber:

You have not received an issue of our bulletin since this past winter, and we owe you an explanation.

We have decided that it is more sensible to publish a book-sized annual rather than a quarterly. The book will be higher quality than the bulletin has been, both in terms of format and information. We have also concluded that it makes sense for the book to be confined to China's human rights issues, since other publications (e.g., Korea Communiqué, Taiwan Communiqué--see 'head 19 for addresses) do such a good job on other parts of East Asia. Be assured, however, that this change reflects no change in our balanced, non-partisan approach to human rights.

The new book will be called China Rights Annals. You are slated to receive the first issue next spring.

Your subscription will expire with the first ^{2d} issue, and this is the only renewal notice that we will send. After 1985, we will send CRA only to paid-up members. If you wish to renew, send $25 and specify that you want your membership extended by one year. (We expect that CRA will also be distributed by a commercial publisher.)

Normally, we will send paperback copies, and use surface mail. If you want the hard-cover edition, please so specify and send $10 extra per issue. Overseas air mail is $13 more.

In general, checks should be in US dollars, payable by a US bank, made to the order of "SPEAHR/USA." (The only exceptions are Hong Kong dollar checks, which should be made payable to "Citibank." Multiply the US dollar total by 8.)

To help tide you over, we are enclosing some freebies which we hope you will find of value.

We appreciate your interest in East Asians' human rights. We welcome your comments--and your contributions! (The latter are deductible from income for US tax purposes as provided by law.)
